ENDORSEMENT LETTER

The Egyptian Society of Rheumatic Diseases (ESRD) is the largest society (established 1964) and officially represents Egypt in the African League Against Rheumatism (AFLAR); and together with its official international journal ‘The Egyptian Rheumatologist’ hosted and produced by Elsevier and first released 1979 with now its 42nd volume on its way, would like to endorse the potentially promising regional rheumatology journal the ‘Mediterranean Journal of Rheumatology’ (MJR) as a fellow academic landmark and encourage residents, practicing rheumatologists and research fellows alike to read and contribute to this new platform that would perfectly serve to narrow the regional scientific gap for Middle East and North African (MENA) countries.

This endorsement does not incur any financial obligations from the Egyptian Society of Rheumatic Diseases or Egyptian Rheumatologist.
